Getting Started

Using the DeskTop Air Calculator

DeskTop Air is a Windows program that calculates the thermodynamic and transport properties of moist air. It calculates all unknown properties when a state point is defined by two known properties. DeskTop Air allows you to label and store a collection of state points, which can be printed in a table or copied to the clipboard and pasted into other Windows applications.

You can launch DeskTop Air by clicking the Windows 'Start' button then go to 'All Programs', 'TechwareEng' folder, 'DeskTop Air' folder and click "DeskTop Air".

Once you have started DeskTop Air, you can get specific instructions for using it from the Help Menu. We suggest that you start by clicking "DeskTop Air Topics" on the Help 'Contents' tab and review the topics in order.

You can find operating instructions for DeskTop Air in Chapter 2 of the User's Manual as well. You can find a link to the "DeskTop Air User's manual" in the "TechwareEng\DeskTop Air" program group."
